

Congressman Randolph Urges Department Of Peace In Cabinet At Impressive Rites In Gettysburg National Cemetery Tuesday

"The immortal spirit of Abraham Lincoln should challenge Americans, and people throughout the world, to make this Dedication Day the occasion for the beginning of a frontal attack to eliminate the causes of war," declared Congressman Jennings Randolph of Elkins, W. Va., in an inspiring address in the Gettysburg National Cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Congressman Randolph stood on the spot where Lincoln spoke when he dedicated the resting place of hundreds of those who gave their lives in the three-day battle which marked the turning point of the Civil war, on November 19, 1863.

More than a thousand persons, including many high school pupils dismissed early so that they might attend the anniversary program, grouped around the Soldiers National Monument which marks the spot in the cemetery where Lincoln spoke, and heard Congressman Randolph urge the establishment of a "Department of Peace" in the cabinet of the President of the United States "to work that America may lead the thinking of our people and of the citizens of the world toward the purposes of understanding."

Luhrs Places Wreath
The program was opened at exactly 3:15 p. m. by Henry E. Luhrs, Shippensburg, president of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania, under whose auspices the Dedication Day program was carried out here. The invocation was given by the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church and was followed by the playing of "America" by the Blue and Gray band, the assemblage joining in singing one stanza. A memorial wreath was placed in front of the monument by President Luhrs.

"America spent two billion dollars for one instrument of warfare—the atomic bomb," Congressman Randolph declared. "If America could spend this amount on one instrument of death, why isn't America great enough and good enough to lead the world in the avoidance of World War III?" he pleaded.

Threat To World
"If World War III follows World Wars I and II, the world as we know it, and the civilization which has been developed, will be destroyed. It is possible for the peoples of the earth to live together in permanent peace. It is important that this question be answered today correctly and in the spirit of Christian unity. If we do not learn to live together in one world, there will be no world to live in together."

The congressman warned that if another war comes, America will not have time to prepare for it, and that war will come, not on some foreign soil, but to America, and every part of America.

"In World War I we had the productivity, industrial and agricultural, to win the war and in World War II we had an even greater productivity of items that were necessary. In World Wars I and II we had time and space on our side. If World War III comes time and space will not be on our side," he said. "Atomic weapons, rocket ships, guided missiles—all developing and which are already shown to be most powerful, will cause World War III to be fought in Gettysburg or any other American city just as much as in San Francisco or New York. The conflict would reach into the homes and the hospitals, into the commercial enterprises, into the teeming life of America. War would come in hours!"

Man Can Stop War
"Some will say: 'We can't keep from having World War III because there is a force and a power which causes war and man can't do anything about it.' I don't believe it. It is cowardly to think such philosophy. Wars are man-made, and by the same token, man can unmake war, and it is a terrible admission when any person believes it to be otherwise."

"I feel the greatest problem before the American people today is to work under a coordinated system within our own government, regardless of politics, and to work quickly with the other nations of the earth to see to it that there is a just and a permanent peace for all mankind."

Congressman Randolph declared that there should not be a war department and a navy department, but that both should be consolidated into one. "Sometime," he said, "we will have the courage to consolidate the war and navy departments and do away with the duplication and expenses such as we have today. They should be consolidated into one department, the Department of Armed Forces of the United States."

A "Just Peace"
Congressman Randolph declared that, "This afternoon under a cloudless sky, with the temperature in the 50's, conditions are probably a replica of those under which Lincoln spoke. In the silence of this (Please Turn to Page 8)

Deadline Nears In Coal Crisis

By WARD W. WARD
Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—John L. Lewis's lawyers went into an eleventh hour huddle today as the midnight deadline approached in his showdown fight with the government.

The United Mine Workers chief must decide before today ends whether he will withdraw his contract termination notice that always means a shutdown in the soft coal mines.

Lewis, who may be courting legal penalties if he fails to do so, left his suburban home early but did not go to his office atop the Union's building.

HOLD SEMINAR THIS EVENING

Wallace L. Gallup, regional representative of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, is the guest of Gettysburg college today.

Dr. Oswald Elbert was the main speaker and Gettysburg college chaplain, Howard J. McCahey, led the Bible study, the theme of which was "One Lord, One World."

URGES LINCOLN EXAMPLE FOR TODAY'S CRISIS

"Abraham Lincoln was a severely logical man who realized that the ultimate arm of political policy is war," Major Roy E. Appleman, Richmond, regional historian for the National Park Service, declared at the Lincoln Fellowship luncheon Tuesday noon at the Hotel Gettysburg.

"Lincoln knew that the policies he was to enunciate when he took office would probably lead to war, but he knew that it was necessary to take that chance."

"A keynote to his mental attitude is to be found in his arguments with Douglas. Lincoln had great kindness for individuals, yet lived principally in the realm of ideas, for he knew that ideas rule men then as they do today."

"What Would Lincoln Do?"

"In many ways today the world is more unstable than ever before. Previously, there was a balance of power, an element of stability. But today there is none. It is true to say that any statesman today must have stark realism as his basic philosophy. One would urge today's statesmen to study Nicholas Machiavelli. Most people have an erroneous impression of him. He told what men did and not what men should do. That is the approach we should have to today's problems."

"Much of that idea of knowing men as they are instead of what they should be is contained in Lincoln's attitude."

"I think that Lincoln, if he were alive today would give us positive leadership, yet do it deftly. He knew that men are ruled by ideologies and today we have two great ideologies in the world. Judging from the past one can scarcely hope they will be resolved peacefully."

"Our great duty today is to ask ourselves in considering our problems—What would Lincoln do?"

HENRY SCHMUCK DIES AT HANOVER

Joseph Henry Schmuck, well-known retired Hanover business man, at one time a member of the borough council and a former director of the First National bank there, passed away at his residence Monday evening at 9:15 o'clock. Death followed an illness of two weeks. He was aged 93 years.

During the period of the Civil War, Mr. Schmuck then a small boy, resided in Hanover. He and his father went to Gettysburg to hear President Lincoln deliver his immortal address, and one of the moments of his long life which he recalled with particular pleasure was the honor of having shaken hands with President Lincoln at the reception at the Wills home following the address.

Mr. Schmuck was one of the dwindling group of Hanoverians who as a boy heard Lincoln speak there when the train taking the President to Gettysburg stopped at the Hanover station.

Mr. Schmuck was a stockholder and one of the first directors of the Charles Heiser Shoe company, first shoe factory in Hanover. During his younger life he was active in community affairs. He was the oldest member of the Arcadian club, and was an active member of the Masonic Order. He, too, was a member of (Please Turn to Page 2)

J. W. JOHNSTON IS SPEAKER AT CHURCH SERVICE

Plans to conduct similar services annually were announced at the service Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church held in commemoration of the service which President Lincoln and John Burns, the town's citizen hero of the battle, attended together in that church the evening of November 19, 1863.

Principal speaker at the service Tuesday evening was John White Johnston, Rochester, N. Y., who recounted bits of Gettysburg history he has found in 33 years of research on Gettysburg, Lincoln and Burns "as a hobby."

Mrs. Johnston and John D. Lippy, Jr., who was elected a vice president of the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania here Tuesday, sat in the flag-marked and specially decorated Lincoln pew during the service. In 1914, Mr. Johnston had bronze tablets placed on the Lincoln pew there.

Says Burns Marker Inaccurate
Mr. Johnston said he had walked to the church from center square Tuesday evening "in the street" as Lincoln had 83 years before. He called the church a "shrine sanctified by Lincoln's act of democracy in walking to the church and worshipping there with the Gettysburg cobbler who had distinguished himself in the battle."

The speaker said the John Burns marker on the battlefield is incorrect both as to location and as to the garb in which it shows the Gettysburg civilian soldier. Mr. Johnston gave his authority for the Burns incident as Lieutenant A. D. Rood who accepted Burns as a volunteer in the battle here.

At the close of his talk he displayed rare Gettysburg photos taken here in 1863.

Mr. Johnston was introduced by S. Gray Bigham, senior elder of the church and only present member of the Session who was serving at the time Mr. Johnston placed the Lincoln tablets. Mr. Bigham said two of his uncles, H. Paxton Bigham and Rush Bigham stood guard at the Wills house while President Lincoln stayed there on the Gettysburg visit.

Representatives of the Eagles, Firemen, Moose and Rotary met Tuesday evening at the Moose home, York street, to formulate tentative plans for a community Christmas celebration in Gettysburg, and to plan to ask other organizations to join in the organization of a program for the holiday season.

They discussed plans to ask various singing organizations of the community whether they will take part in making the Christmas season more real by having different groups sing carols for a half hour each evening for several days before Christmas.

Also discussed was the possibility of staging a formal program about December 1 when the Christmas lights are installed with Santa Claus and the borough officials turning on the lights at a specified time to the accompaniment of carols and other music.

While no decisions were made as to what type of program can be worked out, the representatives decided to meet again next Wednesday evening at the Eagles home at 8 o'clock. Dr. Kramer At Hershey Meet Recruitment of teachers, certification regulation to better fit a teacher to adjust himself to demands of a modern school, evaluation, and improvement of instruction were the main topics discussed at the Hershey Conference on Teacher Education Tuesday, which Dr. Frank H. Kramer attended as representative of Gettysburg College.

The conference aimed at long-term planning in teacher education for Pennsylvania. All Pennsylvania liberal arts colleges, state teachers' colleges, state-aided universities, and school administrators were represented.

Some of the objectives under the four areas of discussion included criteria of a teacher education institution, the method by which teachers may be taught these criteria, and the plan by which colleges and universities may teach their staffs modern methods of teaching.

State Democrats Not Discouraged

"We are not discouraged and we are still in there pitching," Mickle said in an interview. "We expect not only to hold the courthouses we have next year but increase them." Predicting the Democratic party would remain a strong factor in the Keystone state, Mickle said: "This has happened before and we came back."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:— I am writing this letter in regards to the item published in the Times issue November 13, about James Stolk, an 85-year-old man, you can publish it, or not as you see fit. I am a tax-payer, and very indignant and amazed to think that this old man was put out on the road again, he was once a mother's precious baby, and surely needs care and attention now, instead of the treatment he received at the hands of our office-holders. We have a County Home, a Welfare Society and a Red Cross Chapter, and besides taxes we are asked for donations to these various organizations, instead of fining him $5.00 he should have been given $5.00, and found a place to live where he would be taken proper care of. He is even willing to work, at his age and condition. When there are so many worthless, drunken, younger and healthy people receiving a relief check, every month and no questions asked, this poor old man was intercepted and taken off the highway and charged with disorderly conduct, because he had no place to go and nothing to do but walk. This is the most disgraceful thing for any community that I can think of and I hope that the Officeholders that came in contact with this incident will come up for re-election or re-appointment sometime in the future.

day at the Carlton, reading newspapers and saying nothing.

At issue as the midnight deadline approached were varying interpretations of the duration of the mine workers' contract with the government.

Lewis served notice last week that he was ending the contract at midnight tonight after Secretary of Interior Krug, federal boss of the government-sized mines, took the position that new contract demands should be pursued with the private owners of the mines—not the government.

Nearly 100,000 Idle

Krug insisted the current contract could not be re-opened for the negotiations. At the government's request a federal court forbade Lewis to keep the cancellation notice in effect.

As the crisis headed up with nearly 100,000 miners laying down their tools in nearly all parts of the coal fields, Krug kept to his office. He stayed in touch with the situation in the fields, however, and aides said his door was open to Lewis at any time.

President Truman, vacationing at Key West, Fla., also held himself ready for any quick decision in the struggle.

MAROONS HAVE TWO LETTERMEN ON CAGE SQUAD

With but two lettermen, Joe Hess, center, and Eugene Cole, guard, remaining from last year's squad, Coach George Forney is confronted with a difficult task in whipping together a formidable Gettysburg high team to face the 21-game schedule which opens December 10 with St. Francis Prep here.

A squad of 43 candidates is working out daily. The group was selected from holdovers of last year's varsity and junior varsity squads and from the most promising of the health class performers.

No scrimmage has been given the group, the Maroon mentor at present concentrating on the fundamentals.

Candidates by classes follow:
Seniors—E. Cole, J. Hershey, J. Hess, J. Roberts, C. Rodgers, F. Rodgers, D. Sheffer and D. Sterner.
Juniors—G. Keeney, K. Fair, R. Dunkinson, R. Sollenberger, D. Bollinger and J. Sanders.

Sophomores—J. Bream, R. Deane, G. Donaldson, W. Snyder, W. Bushman, R. Knox, W. Strickhouser, R. Kump, J. Shultz, B. Westerdahl, W. Weisenhart.

Freshmen—L. Kuhn, C. Shealer, H. Bowling, H. Mellas, C. Deardorff, M. Myers, C. Cornwell, M. Kessell, P. Miller, W. Bucher, R. Wadell, R. Sachs, R. Krick, C. Caskey, J. Bracey, C. Kitzmiller, B. Lawver and R. Dobbins.

Team managers are Robert Shetter, junior, and Robert Williams, sophomore.

LONG RIVALRY TO BE RENEWED

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—The longest unbroken football rivalry in the United States resumes here Saturday when Lehigh university meets Lafayette college for the 83d time.

There won't be anything at stake nationally, since each team has one of its worst gridiron marks. Lafayette has won once and lost seven times, having had 286 points scored against it. Lehigh has a slightly better record, two victories against five defeats, but its opponents have tallied 134 points.

But there have been many occasions when the Leopards of Lafayette and the Engineers of Lehigh have gone into their season finale ranking among the nation's best.

Beaten 50 to 0
The series started in 1884 when Lafayette routed Lehigh, 50-0.

Among the players for the losers was the noted journalist, Richard Harding Davis. Davis scored Lehigh's first touchdown later in that season.

Lafayette has won 48 times, Lehigh has triumphed 29 times and five contests ended in ties.
The two schools, members of the Middle Three Conference, whose title already has been clinched by Rutgers university, will be displaying their gridiron wares before a packed crowd and with all the color of bygone days of greatness.

BASEBALL BACK IN SPOTLIGHT

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—With the major-minor league meetings scheduled to be held in Los Angeles only two weeks away, baseball, blotted off the sports pages by the college and pro footballers, gradually is making the headlines again.

Most interesting bit of news emanated from Chicago yesterday with the announcement that Frank Lane, general manager of the Kansas City Blues and former director of the Cincinnati Reds' farm system, was signed to a two-year contract as president of the American Association.

Lane succeeds H. Roy Hamey, who recently resigned to become general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.
Jim (Ripper) Collins and Jimmy Brown, a couple of former members of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, were named to triple-A minor league managerial posts. Collins, a veteran of 23 years in professional baseball, will manage the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast league, succeeding John (Pepper) Martin, another former Redbird.

Brown, pre-war Cardinal infielder, was appointed manager of the Indianapolis Indians in the American Association. Brown last year played with the Pittsburgh Pirates, who have a working agreement with the Indians.

BOYLAN NAMED COACH

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—Bob Boylan, former schoolboy star at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., has been named assistant basketball coach at St. Joseph's college. Boylan starred on hawk teams from 1940 to 1943.

Basketball Returns To Penn Next Month

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—Basketball returns to the University of Pennsylvania's Palestra December 11 for the first time since 1943. Army and Navy trainees used the building as a mess hall during the war while Penn played its home games at Convention Hall.

First on Penn's list of 22 games is the December 11 contest with Swarthmore.

ILLINI CHOICE FOR ROSE BOWL; ARMY IGNORED

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Pacific coast and Big Nine conferences early today signed a five-year football agreement that slammed the Rose Bowl door in anxious Army's face and probably will send Illinois—which voted against the pact—into the world's richest bowl contest January 1.

Illinois, ranking fifth nationally, is the potential Big Nine (western conference) champion, having only to win from Northwestern Saturday to clinch the title.

Undefeated University of California at Los Angeles, No. 4 college eleven, holds the edge over the once-beaten University of Southern California, rated tenth in the National Football poll, to become the host team for the bowl. The issue will be decided when the two teams clash Saturday at Los Angeles.

Will See Young Again
Should U.C.L.A. and Illinois emerge as rivals in the tournament of Roses classic, the West would again see Buddy Young, fleetfooted Illini back who starred for the Fleet City navy team on the west coast last year and for whom UCLA alumni had at one time reported bidding.

An official press release by the Big Nine-Pacific coast negotiators made no mention of powerful Army, but the terms of the agreement left the Blanchard-Davis machine—number one in the nation—out in the cold.

The contract is effective immediately "for the January 1, 1947, Rose Bowl game," with each conference to name a representative from within its own ranks.

Crider Headed For Scoring Title

By HERB ALTSCHULL
Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—Muhlenberg's Jack Crider surged into a first place tie for the Pennsylvania football scoring crown over the week-end and had to score only one more point this season to annex the title.

Crider was deadlocked today with Dan Roskos of East Stroudsburg Teachers, but the teacher team has completed its season while Crider has one more regular season game to play.

Each has 84 points, recorded on 14 touchdowns.

In third place was Geneva's Larry Bruno, who scored 74 points before winding up his playing days a week ago. Dan Towler of Washington & Jefferson held down the fourth spot with a 60 point total. W & J also has completed its season.

Tony Minisi of Penn had an outside chance of winding up on top but he'll have to score five touchdowns against Cornell to do so. Minisi has 54 points.

Ed Sikorski of Muhlenberg and Eddie Allen of Penn were sixth and seventh respectively.

Mouzon Is Sure He'll Win Again

Philadelphia, Nov. 20 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, lightweight boxing champ in New York, Pennsylvania and affiliated states, and challenger Wesley Mouzon were scheduled for a physical check today, six days before their convention hall title bout.

Commissioner Leon L. Rains of the Pennsylvania Athletic commission said "we want to make sure the boys are in the finest physical condition."

Mouzon says he's "sick of hearing" his knockout of Montgomery in a previous bout was just a stroke of luck. "I'll knock him out again because I know I have the stuff to do it," he said.

Seek Support In Boxer's Suspension

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Athletic commission looked to the National Boxing association today to concur with the one-year suspension of Billy (Jiggs) Donahue, Philadelphia welterweight boxer, for failing to show up for a Scranton bout.

Donahue was matched for a 10-rounder against Jimmy Doyle of Los Angeles Monday night, but Commissioner George J. Jones said the

NORRIS SCORES TWO KNOCKOUTS

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP)—Emmett Norris, doughty Steelton (Pa.) welterweight, unexpectedly turned up twice on a fight card here last night to kyo his first opponent in 15 seconds and return two bouts later to score another knockout.

Weighing in at 145, Norris flattened Jackie Robinson, 146, Philadelphia in the curtain-raiser. Two bouts later, matchmakers pressed him into action against Jimmy Wilson, 147, Philadelphia, and he emerged victorious by a knockout in 2:10 of the third.

The windup saw Bee Bee Wright, 245, Harrisburg, rally from a first round knockdown to register a technical kyo in the sixth frame against George Williams, 151, Baltimore.

Wright kissed the canvas two seconds before the first stanza ended in the scheduled 10-round knockdown to register a technical kyo in the sixth frame against George Williams, 151, Baltimore.

The more than 1,000 fans also watched Billy Proctor, 121, earn an eight round decision over Reds Hall, 121, Philadelphia.

Thompson Takes Lead In Passing

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—Tommy Thompson of the Philadelphia Eagles has replaced Paul Christman of the Chicago Cardinals as the No. 1 passer of the National football league.

Christman, who has led the professional circuit all season, had a bad day against the Los Angeles Rams Sunday when he completed less than one-third of his passes and saw four of them intercepted by the defending champions, who won the game in the last minute.

Thompson has connected on 51 of 84 passes for 684 yards and a completion average of .607 to take over the top spot in the league's inverse grading based on number and percentage of completions, yardage, touchdowns and percentage of interceptions.

Bill Dudley of the Pittsburgh Steelers continued as the No. 1 ball carrier with a total gain of 477 yards.

Ted Fritsch, Green Bay fullback, increased his scoring leadership account when he scored a touchdown in a match was called off when Donahue failed to appear.

The state body also will ask all states associated with it in a reciprocal agreement to suspend Donahue.

Barons Favored In Triple Battle

(By The Associated Press)
The three-way battle for the leadership in the western half of the hockey league race may either be eased after tonight's game or as jumbled as ever.

Each of the three aspirants for the top berth, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Indianapolis will be busy tonight, with the edge, if any, favoring the Barons.

The Barons, currently tied for first place with Pittsburgh, with the Capitals only one point behind, counting for all his team's points in the Packers' 9-0 victory over Detroit. His nine points upped his total to 63 points, 14 more than Ward Cuff's runner-up total.

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The duck-hunting season in the northern zone ended this week, and from all reports it was a poor one—except for a few localities.

Hunting is equally poor in the intermediate zone, including Pennsylvania. A season opening October 5 ended Monday in Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin. In the New England area, Day said, the duck flight was about 30 per cent less than last year.

From the Files of the

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Turkeys Scarce in Gettysburg: Turkey dinners will be scarce in Gettysburg this year, according to the prediction of local produce men, who state that the majority of the birds are being shipped out of the county. Motor truck dealers in live produce sent their machines through the country districts buying up the gobblers as they go, paying the farmers the highest cash prices, which this year do not run much over 30 or 35 cents a pound live weight.

Last year's prices ranged from 50 cents a pound up to 75 and 80 cents live weight.

Open New Bridge: The new concrete bridge near the County Alms House on the Harrisburg road has been thrown open to the traveling public. This bridge marks the close of Adams County's building program. Already eleven new bridges have been constructed in the county and all replace unsightly wooden structures which were unsafe for heavy vehicles to cross.

Scot Comedian Visits Field: Sir Harry Lauder, famed Scottish singer and comedian was the guest Monday afternoon of the Gettysburg Rotary club for a few hours when he came here from York, where his company appeared Monday evening in the Orpheum Theater.

On his arrival here Mr. Lauder was greeted by a committee of men from the local club, consisting of George C. Fissel, Samuel Spangler, W. P. Gilliland and Rev. Paul R. Pontius. The comedian had his picture taken at the spot where Lincoln delivered his Gettysburg Address and at the High Water Mark.

New Gettysburg College: Judge Donald P. McPherson, presiding over the Court of Common Pleas Monday issued a decree that the corporate name of the college here be changed from "The Trustees of Pennsylvania College of Gettysburg in the county of Adams" to "Gettysburg College." The institution has been popularly called Gettysburg College for a number of years.

Pastor Installed: Rev. Ralph W. Baker was installed pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, Sunday morning, at special services conducted by Rev. H. B. Stock, of Carlisle, president of the West Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church. Rev. C. W. Baker assisted in the services.

Teachers Here for Institute: Adams county's corps of public school teachers, two hundred and twenty strong, arrived in Gettysburg Monday morning to attend the sixty-seventh annual session of the Teacher's Institute, which was officially opened in Xavier Hall in the afternoon.

U. S. at Peace with Germany: Washington, Nov. 15—Peace between the United States and Germany was formally declared yesterday by President Harding.

The President in a proclamation signed at 3:52 p. m. yesterday declared the state of war between the United States and Germany, existing from April 6, 1917, to have terminated in fact July 2, 1921, when the joint peace resolution of Congress was approved by the Executive.

Has Diphtheria: Mrs. J. Donald Swope, Broadway, has contracted diphtheria. Mrs. Swope has been ill for several days.

Hunting Club Banquets: Plans for the opening of their lodge in the South Mountains for the deer season December 1, were discussed by seventeen members of the Marsh Creek Hunting Club, at an elaborate dinner served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Deardorff, Cashtown, Friday evening.

Those present were: F. Mark Bream, Joseph Codori, Clyde L. Bream, R. E. Zinn, Harry H. Thomas, Horace E. Smiley, A. E. Hutchison, all of Gettysburg; J. Allen Deardorff, Charles Kuhn, Clarence A. Bream, Harry Deardorff and John Bream, of Cashtown; J. T. Benschoff and Elder R. Martin, of Roushville; Harvey Lewis and Clyde

Today's Talk

ON BEING RE-BORN

In a delightful book I have recently read, I came across the statement that when one began to read, he was re-born—that he was no longer by himself which seems to me to be quite true. The reading of a single book has often changed the course of one's life. And the reading of many books undoubtedly has not only changed, but enlarged, many a life.

We are being re-born again and again! We may have both mental and spiritual births. How often we note the change in a person, whom we once knew very well, but upon whom we come in contact many years later, only to note how changed that one seems. A re-born person!

I would not like to be the man I was ten years ago—but a newer and better one. I would like to be re-born every single day of the year—just as another day of new light appears. We are being constantly altered and changed with the reading of every book, with the meeting of every new contact and through the ripening process of maturity and experience. In Tennyson's "Locksley Hall" you will come across these lines:

"Yet I doubt not through the ages
one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns."

It would be valuable for us all to stay a little longer by ourselves, uninfluenced by reading and the thoughts of others, but this is next to impossible in a world where there are so many books almost at our finger tips and people all around, whose thoughts have a great influence upon us. But just the same we have both the privilege and the opportunity to be born anew within ourselves.

Books and traveling keep introducing us into new worlds, and we thereby become re-born into different human beings, though with all the accessories of a former condition. We can all hope to be continuously better born! Not royal, but red blood counts most!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Hurdling Obstacles"

Just Folks

ASK YOUR MOTHER
Was it Adam first who said:
"Ask your mother?"

"Must we go so soon to bed?"
"Asked your mother."
And since then, have fathers all
Dodged such issues, great or small,
With this phrase I now recall:
"Ask your mother."

Begged for candy, cake or pie,
"Asked your mother."
This seemed safest to reply:
"Ask your mother."
When they turned in hope to me
That my answer, "Yes" would be,
This evaded many a plea:
"Ask your mother."

With this answer men have stayed:
"Ask your mother."
When decisions must be made:
"Ask your mother."
Fathers, soft of heart and head,
Tears of saddened children dread,
And since Adam's time they've said:
"Ask your mother."

Japan Is Still Biggest Factor: (by Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 19—The precise attitude of Japan was becoming more and more the big interrogation point of the arms conference when the delegates of the nine nations assembled again today to talk of the far east. It was Japan to whom they looked for a hint that would reveal just what trend is to be taken by the negotiations as they affect China.

The same way and perhaps with an interest even more intense, the naval experts of the powers were pondering Japan's request for an increase in her proportionate naval strength and were wondering whether she would raise a direct issue with the United States by proposing material changes in the ratio fixed in the American plan.

Some of the Japanese delegates seemed to feel that it would be better to develop their policy point by point.

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

HECKENLUBER ON PA. POULTRY SPECIAL GROUP

Roy H. Heckenluber, Biglerville R. 1, one of upper Adams county's largest poultry growers is a member of a committee considering reorganization of the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation, it was learned today.

The committee for reorganization and a committee to arrange tours for the state's poultrymen were selected at a recent meeting of the federation.

The tours, which will be conducted next year, will be a resumption of an annual custom of the federation which was cancelled because of the war. Originally scheduled to be revived this year the tours were postponed again until next year because of the shortages of hotel accommodations.

Members of the tours committee include P. T. Kistler, Bangor, chairman; Carol O. Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist and A. G. Palmateer, Elverson.

The reorganization committee of which Heckenluber is a member includes:

Leslie Hubbard, Lancaster, chairman; Warren Johnson, Nottingham, Chester county; Milton S. Harrison, Greeley, Pike county; Harry H. Kauffman, Penn State extension poultry specialist; James R. Gillen, Ambler, Montgomery county; Roy H. Heckenluber, Biglerville, Adams county, and Edwin B. Wallis, Liverpool, Perry county, meanwhile, will consider proposals for a re-organization of the Federation.

Both committees were named by Wallis, who was re-elected president of the federation, as were Heckenluber, first vice-president, and George M. Anthony, Strasstown, Lancaster county, second vice-president, Frank Ellis, 3rd, Elverson, Chester county, was named secretary-treasurer, to succeed Robert R. Parks, Altoona, Blair county, who has served since 1934 and declined re-election. Johnson, and Elmer Groff, Lancaster county, were elected directors.

The Federation, which joined with the college in sponsoring the conference, decided also in favor of a three-day session—January 15, 16, and 17—in Harrisburg incident to the State Farm Show. A day each

Poultry Exhibitions Under Special Rules

Public exhibitions of live poultry, banned in Pennsylvania September 1, may be held under certain supervised conditions the state Department of Agriculture announced today.

Displays of what are known to poultrymen as "standard breed" birds (including chickens, turkeys, pigeons and other domestic birds), are permitted in a modification order supplementing the August 23 ban on poultry shows to prevent spread of Newcastle disease, new poultry ailment which made its appearance in Pennsylvania last spring.

The new order does not permit the holding of a poultry exhibit at the Pennsylvania State Farm Show next January 13-17. The State Farm Show Commission ordered its cancellation early this month.

Feed Outlook For Livestock Brighter

Reflecting the improved livestock and poultry feed situation as a result of high grain production this year on Pennsylvania farms, the state Agriculture department announced from federal-state surveys that more than twice as much corn and oats were held in all off-farm storage positions in the state on October 1 than on the same date last year.

At the beginning of October there were 529,000 bushels of shelled and ear corn stored in interior mills, elevators and warehouses, at merchant mills and at terminals. A year earlier such stocks totaled only 207,000 bushels.

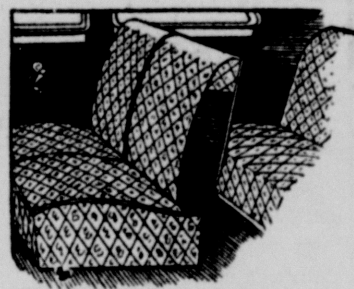

Oats holdings in these positions on October 1 totaled 1,888,000 bushels compared with 630,000 a year previous. However, rye and barley stocks were less than in October 1, 1945. Rye totaled 54,000 bushels compared with 77,000 a year earlier, and barley amounted to 133,000 bushels compared with 170,000 at the same time last year.

The annual expenditure for research projects in the United States is estimated at half a billion dollars.

There were more accidental deaths of farm workers in 1945 than in any other United States industry.

will be devoted to chickens, turkeys, and hatchery problems, in that order.

FARM WAGES AT NEW PEAK

Farm wage rates have reached new all high records, the state Department of Agriculture announced today following quarterly federal-state wage surveys as of October 1.

Most significant in the advance over rates being paid a year earlier was the fact that those working on farms by the day without board are now averaging $5.40 per day or 54 cents an hour for the 10 hours per day which such workers average on Pennsylvania farms. A year earlier the wage for such workers averaged $4.60 per day, and on July 1, 1946 the state average was an even $5.00.

Department officials explained that all farming costs are still rising and that all wage increases result from the higher rates paid by industry, the scarcity of workers, and the necessity for payment of higher rates for fruit, potato, corn and vegetable harvesting this fall.

Among other highest known farm wage averages being paid October 1 by Pennsylvania farmers were:

Turkey Feather Market Growing

The white turkey feather market is here to stay. White Holland growers attending the recent annual poultry conference at the Pennsylvania State college were given that assurance by New York dealers.

American-grown turkeys, these authorities declared, have feathers superior in quality to those produced anywhere else in the world. Even when foreign feather supplies again become available, manufacturers will prefer the white feathers of American-grown White Hollands, in their opinion.

Use of feathers for industrial purposes apparently has a promising future. Already they are being used extensively for millinery purposes, in production of fine cloth, and in other ways.

$77.00 per month with board, an advance from $72.50 paid July 1 and $64 on October 1, 1945; $106 per month without board compared with $105 on July 1 and $93.25 a year earlier; $4.50 per day with board compared with $4.20 on July 1 and $3.75 a year previous.

FARM CALENDAR

Prevent Rickets — If calves are fed vitamin D, they can be protected from rickets, reminds J. C. Nageotte, dairy extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. The most readily available and cheapest form of vitamin D for calves is irradiated dry yeast, type 9F, which can be obtained from feed dealers or direct from the manufacturer by mail.

Save Fertilizer — Farm manures are valuable and all the fertilizing value should be saved for the use of crops, says J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college. A covered manure storage with tight concrete bottom, into which the manure can be dumped from carrier or wheelbarrow, will prevent loss.

Kill Livestock Lice — Rotenone or DDT dust will kill lice on cattle and other livestock, according to Henry Menusan, extension entomologist of the Pennsylvania State college. Rotenone dust generally is first choice, since it is nontoxic to man and animals. Rub or brush the dust into the hair when it is dry.

Plan New Buildings — Construction and remodeling of dwellings and other farm buildings, when materials become available, can be speeded up by advance planning. So says J. R. Haswell, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college.

Improvement Expected — Renewed interest in quality marketing, better merchandising, direct marketing, and co-operative marketing is expected by Kenneth Hood, extension agricultural economist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Tropic plants often grow a foot or more in a day.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

CORN BORER ON INCREASE HERE IN LAST YEAR

Adams county showed an increase in its European corn borer infestation this year, the Bureau of Plant Industry of the state Department of Agriculture announced today.

While nearby Franklin county farms and gardens were the hardest hit by the pest, Adams county's infestation also proved more serious than in previous years. In Franklin county the pest, advancing through York and Cumberland counties caused an infestation of 77.8 out of 100 stalks. Last year in Franklin county only 5.3 per cent of the stalks were infested with borers and in 1944 only 2.1 stalks in each hundred were found to contain pests.

Meantime the infestation in Adams county jumped to 48.3 per cent of the corn stalks compared with approximately 35 last year.

Dropped in 20 Counties

The infestation of European corn borer dropped this year in 20 of the 34 Pennsylvania counties where the pest is known to exist.

However, the borer increased in 12 counties and made its first appearance in one of these, Somerset, the survey revealed. The area of increased infestation was centered on the westward-moving "front" of the two generation corn borer as it advanced through southeastern counties from the point of original infestation in Bucks county in 1937.

For the state as a whole, corn borer infestation this year was less than last. According to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, cool weather at hatching times discouraged development, there was some spraying with DDT, and damage to corn stalks was lessened through more extended use of hybrid corn varieties. The greatest decreases were found in Philadelphia and adjacent counties.

Cumberland county showed an advance from 24.6 per cent last year to 11.6 this year.

FARM CALENDAR

Feeds Hens Well — Hens must eat liberally if they are to lay well, reminds F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Hens Need Rest—Periods of rest for breeding hens give the birds a chance to replenish body reserves depleted by heavy production in recent months, says F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Also, well-rested birds are not so likely to go into a molt later during peak demands for hatching eggs.

Control Weevils—Bean and pea weevils can be controlled by any one of several methods, reminds E. J. Udine, extension entomologist of the Pennsylvania State college. Lime, DDT dust, or carbon bisulphide may be used. Rates of materials to use and precautions to observe may be obtained from your county agricultural agent.

Care for Ewes — Fresh pasture helps to put ewes in good flesh for winter, according to W. B. Connell, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. He also points out that all sheep need a fall drench of phenothiazine in liquid form or in capsules for control of internal parasites.

Records Help Dairyman—Records help the dairyman to check on the results of good feeding and management and the breeding efficiency of the herd and sires, says C. R. Gerhart, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Save Good Trees — In woodlot thinning operations, save the best trees, reminds W. W. Simonds, Penn State extension forester. Among these are red and white oaks, tulip, white ash, hard maple, black wild cherry, white pine, and hemlock.

Four County FFA Youths Played In State Band At Convention In Kansas City

Adams county's four representatives in the Pennsylvania State FFA band which recently returned from the national Future Farmers of America convention at Kansas City where the state band played for most of the sessions are united on two things—that they are not going to make music their career and that there is fun in farming. Despite the second part of that declaration however, only one reported in a recent interview that he plans to become a farmer.

With 99 student musicians to be picked from the 67 counties in the state Adams county was honored by having four of its FFA members picked to take part in the state-wide band, Richard C. Lighter, county agricultural education supervisor pointed out.

All Are Outstanding

All four of the youths are outstanding not only as musicians, but as students and individuals, FFA leaders in the county declared. The youngsters throughout the state were selected for the band on the basis of a questionnaire sent to each agricultural education teacher. Each reported what instruments members of his FFA club played and the most difficult pieces they had played along with other details of their skills. The best were picked for the band according to instruments so that a well-rounded musical outfit could be arranged.

The last time any countians were selected for the state band was in 1940 when three were named to positions. That year, too, the state band played for the national FFA convention.

The four picked to represent the county were Arthur Myers, soprano-saxophone-playing son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Myers, York Springs; Wayne Ecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Ecker, Gettysburg R. 4, who plays the sliding trombone; Sherrill Guise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Guise, Biglerville, a B-flat cornet player, and Charles Griest son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Griest, New Oxford R. 1, who plays the B-flat clarinet.

Musical Backgrounds

Myers, a member of the Apple City chapter of the FFA and a member of the band at Biglerville high school where he is a senior, is a product of a musical family. His parents and six brothers also play various instruments and sometimes, Arthur says, the family gets together for some "hot jam sessions." Five of his brothers played for Biglerville high's band while students there.

Griest is a member of the Conewago chapter of the FFA and of the New Oxford high school band. He is a sophomore at New Oxford.

Wayne Ecker, another Apple City FFA chapter member and a member of the Biglerville high school band, is a senior. His sister preceded him as a member of the school band.

Prepared In August

Guise, who had a brother who was a member of the Biglerville high school band, is a member of that organization as well as of the Apple City FFA chapter. He is a junior at the high school.

Following their selection as members of the state band the students went to State College last August 19 where for two days they and the 95 other members of the state-wide organization practiced for two days under the direction of Dr. Henry S. Brunner, head of the rural education department at state college. At the end of the two days the band presented a public concert.

The students then returned home and before October 19 received the uniforms they were to wear and the music they were to play. Among the numbers was the "FFA Song" written especially for the FFA by Fred Waring.

Another Job

On October 19 they started from Harrisburg by bus to Kansas City and the convention. Upon their arrival in Kansas City they began practices that lasted until the convention opened Monday morning. The practices over, they began play-

Things Of The Soil

White Flies on House Plants

White Flies comprise a fairly important group of insect pests which feed on, and often seriously damage many kinds of house plants, particularly geraniums, lantanas and others. To date most growers are unable to conquer this tiny enemy because they fail to place control emphasis where it is most needed—prevention.

White flies are so named because in the adult or flying stage the pests are seen flying around actively. And when an infested plant is disturbed the little forms will be seen darting rapidly around and around. However, the feeding stage is a small scale-like insect, light green in color and seldom seen moving. Of course, all the damage is done by sucking sap from the infested leaves and tender stems. The insect gets its common name from the fact that the adults are coated with a white powdery substance, giving them the appearance of natural white bodily coloring.

Plants may become heavily infested by the feeding forms, the scale-like larvae, before the owner is aware white flies are present. Among the first symptoms of extreme injuries is a yellowing of badly attacked leaves. Closer inspection will then reveal the feeding forms and perhaps numerous flying adults. When a plant becomes thoroughly infested control may prove almost impossible. In such cases it may be wiser to destroy the specimen than to attempt control with dangers of the pests spreading to neighboring plants.

One of the better preventive and early combat measures is to wash plant foliage every ten days to two weeks with tobacco soap. In lieu of this nicotine sulphate may be applied at the rate of one to one and ing for sessions, banquets, radio programs, recordings—"I never played so much in such a short time in my life," one of the countians said.

Besides the FFA concerts they also took time to play for the Royal livestock show, which is held simultaneously with the FFA convention annually at Kansas City.

Home from the convention the students have another job cut out for them. This winter they will visit all of the FFA chapters in the county to tell the members of the details of the FFA national convention.

Most Wheat Held On Farms In Pa.

Out of 13,825,000 bushels of wheat held in all Pennsylvania storage positions all but approximately three and a half million bushels were on farms, a recent Federal-State survey revealed, according to the state department of Agriculture.

The total Pennsylvania 1946 wheat production was 19,923,000 bushels. Holdings on October 1 this year compare with 16,985,000 bushels a year earlier, the Department said. A breakdown of the October 1, 1946 stocks of wheat follows:

Wheat held on farms, 10,360,000 bushels compared with 855,000 year previous; in interior mills, elevators and warehouses, 800,000 a year earlier and the 10-year average, 1935 to 1944, of 1,328,000 bushels; stocks on October 1 in merchant mills, 1,230,000 bushels compared with 1,010,000 on the same date last year.

White flies should not be confused with tiny gnats or flies which propagate from soil maggots. Where manures are used in composting potting soil there are likely to be introduced into the soil eggs of small maggots. These develop into small gnats which bustle about on wing whenever they are disturbed. Control of these is best effected by watering finely ground tobacco dust into the soil.

When combatting white flies with nicotine sulphate it is advisable to cover the infested plant with a snug paper cone immediately after spraying in order to hold the nicotine fumes among the leaves for 12 to 24 hours. Nicotine dust employed by this method may prove as effective as the spray.

Readers are urged to write the editor to ask all the questions desired in house plant problems.

Sumatra produces pepper, sisal, fumes among the leaves for 12 to 24 hours. Nicotine dust employed by this method may prove as effective as the spray.

INTEREST HIGH IN MUHLENBERG DELAWARE GAME

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 20 (P)—The rivalry of Delaware and Muhlenberg College, two high-powered gridiron machines which have been producing points in astronomical figures, clash here Saturday for the mythical little college football championship.

A white-hot football fever gripped sports fans in the area today as Delaware's coach, Bill Murray, sent his team—unbeaten in its last 29 games—through a vigorous workout in preparation for its most important game of the season.

For Muhlenberg, situated in the heart of Allentown in Pennsylvania's high valley, has what is probably the best football team in history.

Coach Floyd Schwartzwalder has inverted an all-losing record into an all-winning mark. The Mules, a major basketball power but a stumblebum in football circles, had lost all five games played last year.

Bid For Bowl Game

But then came Schwartzwalder and an eight-game winning streak, which the mules rolled up 259 points. Delaware, in nine consecutive victories this season, has scored 70 points.

To the winner of Saturday's game the reward almost assuredly will be a bowl trip. Both Delaware and Muhlenberg have received "feelers" from the lesser bowl committees but the winner might be in line for a trip to the Orange or Cotton Bowl.

It is expected that the 14,000 who will jam into Wilmington's baseball park for the game will witness a clash between Muhlenberg's speed, with the Mule attack paced by swift back Crider, freshman speedster who has scored 14 touchdowns, and Delaware's depth and strong team coordination.

Murray, a former Duke University star, insists Delaware has no doubt players.

Pro Football Gate Shows Big Increase

Pittsburgh, Nov. 20 (P)—Five home games of the Pittsburgh Steelers professional football team this season drew 177,854 fans, as compared with 87,746 at five home games in 1942, the previous record for the club, officials disclosed yesterday.

Dr. Jock Sutherland's appointment of coach supplied part of the team's pulling power. The Steelers, who won only one game last year, this season are in second place in the league's Eastern division, with a count of five wins, three losses and a tie.

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 20 (P)—Dave Kirk, captain of the West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers college football team, had his spleen removed at St. Joseph's hospital here after suffering an injury in last Saturday's game with Millersville Teachers.

Kirk, a Port Carbon, Pa., lad, starred at halfback for the West Chester team. Four teammates stood by during the operation yesterday to give Kirk blood transfusions.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is experimenting with a new fiber made from peanuts.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
New York, Nov. 20 (P)—Although New York has clinched the Eastern division title and Cleveland virtually has won the Western crown, the all-America football conference hasn't disclosed where the East-West play-off will take place. . . . Presumably, it's scheduled for the Western City on December 22, but the AAC folks may remember the kind of weather the National leaguers encountered in Cleveland last December. . . . Miguel Llaneras, who played for the University of Havana against Long Island U in Cuba last spring, has turned up on Clair Bee's LIU basketball squad. That looks like a record for long range recruiting. . . . Columbus, Ga., is bidding for "any outstanding high school football team in the country" to play in the first Peanut Bowl game there, January 1. With plans being made for a 22,000 crowd, they won't play for peanuts either.

PROBLEM PLAYER

Last summer a kid named Jay Van Noy played a little baseball in the Pioneer league and when he decided to go to college there was some question about his eligibility. . . . The Big Seven conference voted 4-3 that Jay hadn't played enough to be regarded as a professional. . . . At that time Van Noy apparently was headed for Utah U. and one of the "No" votes was cast by Utah State. . . . Now Jay Van Noy is a star freshman halfback. . . . Where? Why, Utah State.

CLEANING THE CUFF

It wasn't surprising when Harvey Jacklin, who drives a truck when he isn't playing hockey for the Philadelphia Rockets, drew a major penalty for fighting in his second game. But his fellow truck jockeys almost read him out of the lodge when they learned he wasn't packing a crank or jack handle.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Contrary to general opinion, Steve Owen and Ray Flaherty, the local pro coaches, agree that a muddy day doesn't ruin a passing attack. . . . After last Sunday they agreed that the mud gave the receivers an

TRUSTEESHIP PROPOSAL FOR POLAR REGIONS

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Is it possible to place the relatively "free areas" of the world under United Nations control now, thereby establishing the first tiny foothold of world government in practice?

The question pops up immediately in consideration of the suggestion by Prof. Leo Gross, of the School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts college, that such a step be taken in Antarctica to forestall an international race for domination of that area.

So far, such claims as have been laid by different nations to parts of Antarctica are on a rather tenuous basis. The United States holds that mere discovery does not constitute a "staked claim" in such areas, although they have been made in the names of the various countries including the United States, France, Norway and even Japan. Argentina and Chile claim some rights of contiguity, and the British expedition which has been in the area for two years may meet at least a part of the U. S. contention that development and occupation, not discovery dates, are the important factors.

U.N. Might Avoid Trouble

Prof. Gross infers that the suspected presence of uranium in Antarctica might make it a very difficult problem if its solution is left until vested interests are established. He doesn't mention the Arctic, although his argument would seem to apply equally well in an area which is under discussion because of its military location.

The Gross plan would seem to be even more logical in connection with the attempt to give the United Nations control over the sources of atomic energy. If, as seems quite likely, the possibility of finding uranium outweighs the generally professed reasons for the various pending expeditions into the Antarctic, the U.N. might avoid trouble by stepping in now instead of later.

Since control of the sources of fissionable material is a part of the atomic control plan now being studied by the U.N., it is not impossible that such areas will eventually come under international control anyway.

An even more explosive thought lies in the possibility of grouping under United Nations all the undeveloped parts of the world, uranium or no uranium, which can be transferred because they play no particular role in already-established economies. It might start a pool of world government precedent into which the nations could one day jump themselves, as many believe they will have to do before lasting world order can be established.

FALSE ALARM

Decatur, Ill., (AP)—Decatur school officials studying alarm systems for school installations went to the fire department for a siren demonstration and got one that made everybody jump—including the fire truck. When a substitute driver pushed a button on a fire truck the visitors and the firemen jumped—for safety—and the truck jumped right through a closed door. The fireman, instead of pushing the siren button, accidentally pushed the motor starter. The truck was in gear and bashed its nose through two door panels before it was stopped.

afternoon and in the spirit of Lincoln, let us re-dedicate ourselves not only to a just, good living, but to the higher purposes of an adequate, just peace."

Following the address, the Blue and Gray band played "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was read by Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, Lutheran Theological seminary.

Students Sing Dirge

Four high school pupils, Ann Rafensperger, soprano, Patricia Shealer, contralto, William Tipton, tenor, and Galen Keerzy, bass, sang the same dirge which was used for the first time at the 1863 dedication. The benediction, also the same as on that November day, was pronounced by Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church.

Most of the program, including Congressman Randolph's address, was broadcast by WSBA, York. The congressman, who flew here from Washington in 35 minutes Tuesday morning, and was met at the Gettysburg airport by representatives of the fellowship, left for Washington by plane after the ceremonies.

A Lincoln Fellowship luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg at noon and a parade, which formed in front of the hotel at 2:30 o'clock and followed the same route Lincoln took 83 years ago to the national cemetery, preceded the ceremonies at the latter place.

when Miss Lillian Demmitt will be leader on a discussion of The Life of Isaiah. Last Friday evening the society served the Woman's Community club a trucky supper.

The Starr Bible class will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Cleason Plunkert, near town. Members will meet at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Dixon, and leave from there.

the principal speaker was Major Roy E. Appleman, Richmond, Va., regional historian of the National Park service. The invocation was given by Dr. Robert Rau, Gettysburg college.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dozing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when the lower part gets blocked food may fail to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is something to "unblock" your lower intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits all 8 of Nature's own digestive juices to mix better with your food. It's a sure, safe, "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organic too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

MAN RAISES HIS ARMS ABOVE HIS HEAD FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS

A few days ago a man said the rheumatic pains in his arms and shoulders disappeared and now he can raise his arms above his head for the first time in years. He said the pains he used to have from this rheumatism were simply awful. Sometimes his knees and hips were stiff and sore, but the pains were mostly in the back of his neck and across his shoulders. Now, however, his suffering is entirely gone and he says the change is due to taking RHU-AID. "Oh! What relief!", states this man. "Why don't other rheumatic sufferers get RHU-AID?"

RHU-AID is a new formula. It contains Three Great Ingredients, so it is almost like taking three medicines in one. It goes right to the source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Gettysburg.
